

That the FCC should not implement any proposal that would lessen Indiana's Telephone Privacy law protections. Indiana's Telephone Privacy law has improved my time at home by allowing less access to my telephone number to unwanted solicitors. I used to receive numerous calls each day, but since the inception of my number on Indiana's "No Call" list, I can't think of when the last time I received an unwanted phone sollicitaion. Thank you for your consideration in this matter.
